English - we will be exploring stories with historical settings, with children writing their own story based on Viking life. They will then adapt this story into a play-script. Also, they will write an explanation text on how to defeat an English village. Furthermore, linking to our Viking theme story 'How to Train your Dragon', we will be writing a letter from Hiccup to his dad about their opinion on dragons.

Science - we will be investigating electricity and circuits, where the children will design an early warning Viking invasion alarm system. We will also investigate states of matter, where the children will use practical resources to develop their knowledge and understanding of solids, liquids and gases, linking to the water cycle and Scandinavian weather.

D & T - we will design and create a Viking longship that will float in shallow water.

The Vicious Vikings

Art - we will use a range of materials to produce a Viking seafarers scene.

History - we will be learning about the Vikings, researching who they were, when and how they lived, and comparing how they lived compared to modern times.

PE - for gymnastics, we will be create a routine, with a Viking theme. We will also learn and develop our tag-rugby skills.

Geography - we are studying place knowledge, in particular the differences and similarities between the UK and Scandinavia.
